Reed's Natural Ginger Nausea Relief

- Thursday, January 27, 2011

When Amanda told me she had a review for Reed's Natural Ginger Nausea Relief, it couldn't have come at a better time. Plagued with the horrible "morning sickness", that is not confined to just the morning, I was ready to try anything!

Each box contains four 5.5 fluid ounce cans of anti nausea wonder. It's completely natural, with main ingredients of honey, ginger, and lemon. It is free of preservatives and "artificial anything" and is also gluten free.

Immediately when you open the can you can smell the ginger, lemon, and citrus juices. The smell alone started to quell the urge to...well you know. The first can I tried right off the counter. It wasn't bad. Definitely a sipping drink, but I think that helps with the mission. As I stood there drinking and reading the box I see, "Serve Chilled". I agreed that it would probably help and placed the rest of the box in the fridge. Chilled Natural Ginger Nausea Relief is much better! The drink did as stated, relieving my nausea and keeping it at bay for quite a while.

Reed's Natural Ginger Nausea Relief is recommended for use during travel, for those that experience motion sickness. It is also good for morning sickness and upset stomach. It is safe for children too. With 12 grams of ginger and 10 mg of Vitamin B6 per can there is no wonder why one would feel better after drinking it. As stated on the box,

Ginger is a traditional herbal tonic for nausea. It has been in use in certain parts of the world for thousands of years. The earliest writings from China and India talk about ginger and its health promoting properties. Other cultures throughout history, including the Roman Empire, have used ginger extensively to settle stomach complaints. More recently, Vitamin B6 is being used for its anti-nausea properties. Reed's Natural Ginger Nausea Relief uses both fresh ginger root and B6 to help alleviate nausea naturally, without drowsiness.

Reed's specializes in ginger drinks, supplements, and confections. They stick by their motto, "The best sodas in the world, naturally." You can find their products at their online store, www.reedsinc.com, or use the store locator to find a store near you that carries the Reed's products.

I was not paid in any way to complete this review. I received 2 boxes of Reed's Natural Ginger Nausea Relief and I completed my review on my personal opinion. No one influenced my review in anyway.
