My husband suffers from Nausea many days. He rides a bus on his work commute and the motion makes him very ill. When I had received the Reeds Natural Soda to review, when he came home from work the next time feeling sick, I handed him one to try. He said it helped him a ton. Now we keep Reeds Natural Soda on hand at all times for him.

Also, as a side note, my husband is from Jamaica and he said that Ginger is used all of the time there for upset stomach's. So he was excited I got this to review. I am so glad I helped him find something to make him feel better after a long day at work.

The Plus Size Mommy

Disclosure- I received Reeds Natural Soda to review on my blog at no cost to me. I was informed about this review due to my relationship with Mommy PR. All opinions and experience of this review are 100% my (husband's) own. Results may vary with others.
